Dear Mr. Fairbanks:

Prior to Mr. Dallas' leaving the city on a short vacation down south, he asked me to acknowledge and thank you for your letter of 24 March.

Mr. Dallas plans to return to Washington the early part of next week and I believe that he will have more information for you at that time.

Sincerely,

OFFICE OF DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Dear Mr. Fairbanks:

In the absence of Mr. Dulles, your letter to him of 24 March has come to my attention. Thus far there seems to be nothing definite regarding the possible trip which you and he discussed. However, I am sure he will want to get in touch with you upon his return (about April 8) and may be able to tell you something more at that time.

Sincerely,

C. P. Cabell

Dear Allen,

I'm still around & about (my plans somewhat "discumbobulated"
by a severe operation on my step-father and altered business developments) but have changed my address.

Did you get my last note with a copy of my letter from my "almost-guest"? Are you coming up to N.Y.?
Is there any new development affecting me? Did you see & hear about yourself
"Who was That lady, etc."?

Yours, Harry F.
